Merchant Pricing Schedule 2026

Effective January 1, 2026. Supersedes the 2025 schedule.

ACH debit pricing by tier

Tier	Per debit item	Basis points on debit volume	Monthly debit volume
A	$0.12	8 bps	Over $25,000,000
B	$0.15	11 bps	$5,000,000 to $25,000,000
C	$0.18	15 bps	Under $5,000,000

Other items

ACH credits (payroll, disbursements, refunds): $0.10 per item, all tiers. No basis-point charge on credit volume.

Card acceptance (credit and debit cards, all brands): 22 basis points on gross card volume, all tiers, plus interchange and assessments passed through at cost.

Remote check capture: $0.22 per item, billed separately and not included in the ACH tiers above.

Returns: no per-return fee. Return handling is included in the per-item price.

How monthly fees are calculated

A merchant's monthly processing fee is the sum of four lines: debit items multiplied by the per-item price for its tier, debit volume multiplied by the basis points for its tier, credit items multiplied by $0.10, and card volume multiplied by 22 basis points. One basis point is one hundredth of one percent, so 11 bps on $1,000,000 is $1,100.

Tier assignment

Each merchant is assigned one tier in the merchant master and billed at that tier until the master is changed. Merchant Contracts reviews tier assignments each quarter against the trailing three-month average of monthly debit volume. A move between tiers takes effect only through a signed pricing amendment; the effective date in the amendment governs billing. Merchant Services is responsible for recording the new tier in the merchant master before the first billing cycle it applies to.
